Rep. Smola Visits High School Saturday Study Session

BOSTON – WARREN, MA – State Representative Todd Smola stopped by as students enrolled in AP English courses convened at Quaboag Regional High School. With AP exams approaching fast in May, students gathered to prepare for the exam, which could provide them with credits towards college courses.

Rep. Smola joined AP students from Quaboag Regional High School, Palmer High School and Tantasqua Regional High School as teachers reviewed material from throughout the year in preparation for the upcoming exams.

“It’s exciting to see so many students who are willing to come in on a Saturday to prepare for the AP exam.” said Representative Smola. “These kids are putting in the extra effort and we need to do everything we can to support them. I also want to commend all the teachers there and thank them for their dedication.”

Mass Insight Education offers three Saturday Study Sessions per school year, including a session with a mock exam, which students are encouraged to attend. Students meet at a school within their regional cluster and work with teachers and peers from other schools who are taking the same AP subject to review course material in preparation for the AP exams in May.
